

Globalized skills and attitudes for the future

Global Employers' Workshop
The Future of Work
Madrid, 29 - 30 March 2017

International Organization of Employers
Organisation Internationale des Employeurs
Organización Internacional de Empleadores
The Global Voice of Business

CEOE

CONFEDERACIÓN ESPAÑOLA DE
ORGANIZACIONES EMPRESARIALES

Cof-funded by the European Union

How society can properly absorb the impact of technological change, especially in relation to the automation of work, in the middle and long term?

- Demographic factors
- Technological factors
- The level of development of every country
- Changes in business models and ways of working
- Political visions and social dialogue

What skills will contribute more to job creation?

- Lifelong learning
- STEM skills&Programming skills
- Soft or emotional skills
- Values and Ethics

Will there be a global talent competition?

- Opportunity & Threat
- Digital platforms
- Skills gap
- Education & Business
- Unicorns
- Attraction & Retention

What kind of new attitude will be required from individuals towards the need to adapt skills?

- Responsible for their own development & training
- Platforms-Trust-Peers

mpadulla@staffingamericalatina.com

@MartinPadulla