Why GOSH?

GOSH is an initiative sponsored and supported by the IOE.

Since 2009, GOSH provides exclusive, confidential forums for senior OSH, Risk Management and Sustainability Professionals to discuss critical OSH and sustainability issues with international peers.

GOSH helps companies identify and anticipate emerging health and safety issues and trends so that you can better address them.

GOSH shares IOE's insights and analyses of UN and other multilateral initiatives impacting the global health and safety environment for business.

How does GOSH work?

In addition to virtual sessions, a global in-person meeting is hosted once a year by a GOSH member on a voluntary basis.

You set and control the agenda, working with other members of GOSH and the IOE Secretariat.

Regional and international experts are invited to provide insights on select issues.

You get access to all meeting materials through a dedicated GOSH website and to information and exchange of views via a dedicated Teams group.

Are you interested in joining with senior OSH, Risk Management and Sustainability Professionals from the most influential and dynamic international corporations?

Come attend a meeting as an invited guest to directly experience the value of GOSH.
