Still time to submit Employer candidatures for ILO Tripartite Sectoral Meeting on OSH and Skills in the Oil and Gas Industry

Dear Members and Colleagues,

As already outlined in our 22 October 2015 communication, an ILO tripartite Sectoral Meeting on Occupational Safety and Health and Skills in the Oil and Gas Industry Operating in Polar and Subarctic Climate Zones of the Northern Hemisphere will take place in Geneva from 26 to 29 January 2016 to examine relevant aspects of occupational safety and health (OSH) and skills with a view to adopting conclusions outlining ways to promote OSH and address skills in the oil and gas industry in polar and subarctic climate zones of the Northern hemisphere.

Eight employer experts, eight worker experts as well as government experts will be invited to participate and their travel and subsistence expenses will be covered by the International Labour Office. Additional representatives of the three groups, as well as delegates from international and non-governmental organisations, will be able to attend the meeting as observers, but at their own expense.

There is still time to submit Employer candidatures for this meeting. If you would like to propose the participation of an expert who is well-versed in the matters to be discussed at this meeting, we thank you in advance for duly completing and returning the form provided via the link in the side panel by Monday, 4 January 2016 at the very latest.

We would like to remind you that we can only take into consideration candidatures submitted directly by IOE member federations. Thank you in advance for your interest in these activities.

We remain at your disposal for any clarification you may need.

Yours sincerely,

Jean Dejardin
IOE Adviser
