Call for Nominations for the ILO Tripartite Meeting of Experts on Fair Recruitment

Dear Members and Colleagues

The ILO will organise a tripartite meeting of experts in Geneva on fair recruitment from 5-7 September 2016.

The IOE has been requested to nominate eight employer experts to this meeting. We would be pleased if you could send us the CV of a knowledgeable employer expert on the issue, for consideration as a nominee before 16 July 2016 to muia@ioe-emp.org.

The tripartite meeting of experts will develop guidance to promote recruitment practices that respect the principles enshrined in international labour standards, including the Private Employment Agencies Convention 1997 (No.181) and identify, document and promote the exchange of good practices on reducing the financial and human costs of migration.

The development of this guidance is a key component for the protection of migrant workers and the fair and effective governance of labour migration.

Moreover, labour recruiters, both public and private, play an important role in matching skills supply and labour demand within and across borders and hence can contribute to enhanced development outcomes for migrants and their countries of destination as well as to enhanced development outcomes for migrants and their countries of origin.

We look forward to receiving your nominations.

Yours sincerely,

Frederick Muia
