voice for business

CALL FOR EXPRESSIONS OF INTEREST INDEPENDENT CONSULTANT ON JUST TRANSITION POLICIES

The International Organisation of Employers (IOE) is requesting expressions of interest for an independent consultant to support IOE's work on Just Transition policy planning and recommendations.

About us:

IOE is the largest private sector network in the world, representing 50 million businesses through over 150 national employers' organisations. IOE is the sole representative of business in social and employment policy debates taking place at the International Labour Organization (ILO), the United Nations, G20 and other global forums. IOE is recognised for its unique expertise, advocacy, and influence as a powerful and balanced voice for business at the international level. IOE consolidates the perspectives and priorities of national employers' and business organisations in one single, effective, and coherent voice. Our vision is to create a sustainable economic environment worldwide, promoting free enterprise that is fair and beneficial to both business and society.

About the consultancy:

- Review the ILO Just Transition Guidelines and their priority policy areas through an employers' lens.
- Analyse the practical aspects of the policy recommendations and how employers' organisations can use this framework for member support.
- Analyse and review the landscape of 'green' skills and skills for a just transition, providing analysis of the definition, types of skills, leading institutions.
- Define priorities for a coherent and efficient skills agenda and how employers can work with governments on implementation, anticipation and planning of appropriate skills frameworks for a smooth transition.
- Provide an overview of the link between NDCs and skills policies, how can they be better integrated and to what extent are skills included in current NDCs.
- Based on the main messages, challenges and opportunities, prepare a summary of recommendations and priorities for employers' organisations and governments to be included in the same document.

Timeline: November 2022 to January 2023

Location: Home based.

Competencies:

- Expertise on global climate policy and governance, the linkages between employment, skills, economic growth and climate adaptation and mitigation as well as a good understanding of just transition as a concept and business involvement in this space.
- Excellent knowledge of private sector and/or a great experience with employers' networks and business organisations.
- Excellent research skills and a good command of tools like Microsoft Word
- Ability to distill complex information clearly and concisely.
- Good communication and ability to clearly structure inputs, feedback and comments as well as to efficiently handle versioning of documents

Additional information: The consultant will work independently and address statutory contributions in their country of residence. You must be registered as an independent consultant in your country of residence, affiliated with a university, or a registered organisation/company to apply for this consultancy.
